The Devil’s Dilemma

Team Kenan presents a blog about news that you probably haven’t read. Join us as we think through the ethical implications of unusual happenings from around the world and at Duke. It’s wholesome procrastination.

Is throwing dead animals wrong?
What if it’s for charity?

Should you lose your job for driving over a snowman?
What if you’re a bus driver?

Should parents reward their kids for good grades?
What if hospitals reward good students with discounted plastic surgery?
